WAREHOUSES AT OUTS.

Louisville, July 9.—There is trouble between the Continental Tobacco Company and the Louisville Tobacco Warehouse company, but how far reaching it is difficult to learn. Continental buyers have not appeared on the breaks yesterday or today at any of the sales held by Louisville tobacco warehouse company, which embraces every warehouse in the city except the Picket. They did attend the sales the latter warehouse, however, and purchased liberally. Both sides are reticent as to the trouble.

CITIZEN OF FULTON DIES.

Fulton, July 9.—John W. Blythe, a prominent citizen, died at his home here last night. Blythe, in trying to obtain his interest in the estate of Adam Blythe, of San Francisco, spent a small fortune. The estate was valued at $5,000,000.

THE FLESH FELL OFF

Horrible Accident to Colored Man at Wickliffe.

Fell Into a Vat of Boiling Water and Died in Terrible Agony.

MAN DROWNED AT BROOKPORT

W. J. Robbins, a negro laborer employed in the Thompson veneering mill company, at Wickliffe, Ky., fell into a large vat of boiling water last evening about 6 o'clock and died in horrible agony six hours later.

Robbins was working over the vat with veneering when he slipped in, the cause of the accident not having been learned by his companions. His cries or help attracted the attention of other laborers who rescued him as soon as possible but not until all the skin had peeled off and a great deal of flesh had been thoroughly cooked.

He lived in Mayfield but had been working in Wickliffe for some time. His remains will probably be buried at Wickliffe.

James Reese, colored, a tie carrier of this city, was drowned in the Ohio at Brookport late yesterday afternoon while carrying ties from a barge to a railroad car.

Reese had a heavy tie on his shoulder and was walking up a slanting plank from the barge to the car when he slipped. His head struck the plank and at the same time the heavy tie crashed down on his head, crushing the skull. The unconscious man fell into the water and was carried under a barge by the current. His companions began dragging for the body and finally secured it from under the barge 40 minutes after the accident had happened.

The body of the unfortunate laborer was brought to this city this morning about 11 o'clock to the Andy Watkins undertaking establishment and the burial will be this afternoon at Oak Grove. Reese leaves a wife and one child and resided on the South Side.

THE MAYOR INVITED

To Address the Good Government League Tomorrow.

He Has Declined the Invitation—Judge Reed to Talk.

The Citizens' Good Government league is trying to get up an interesting speaking for tomorrow night. Judge W. M. Reed, one of the attorneys who recently won the 10:30 closing ordinance case in the court of appeals, will explain the ordinance as it now stands to those present.

A committee was appointed to call on Mayor D. A. Yeiser and request him to address the meeting on "The Enforcement of the Law," meaning the 10:30 closing law, but Mayor Yeiser will not speak. Rev. G. W. Perryman as one of the committee asked him today to make the address, but the mayor stated this afternoon he had declined. Mayor Yeiser probably never made a speech of over fifty words in his life, and it is said feels that he has not been treated right by some members of the league, and would probably not address the league on any subject at any time.

SOMEWHAT COOLER.

THE TEMPERATURE AND RAIN FALL IN PADUCAH.

Today has been a great deal cooler than yesterday, the thermometer registering at 2 o'clock only 96 when yesterday the highest was 101. The lowest reached last night was 68, eight degrees cooler than the night before. The rainfall yesterday was 0.55 of an inch.

Mr. Joseph L. Friedman returned from Chicago this morning.

DURBIN REFUSED TO ALLOW NEGRO MOVED

Evansville, July 9.—Acting under orders of Judge Rasch, Sheriff Kratz last night left for Jeffersonville to bring back Lee Brown, the wounded negro who killed Patrolman Massey last Friday. It was this killing and the desire of the mob to lynch Brown that precipitated the rioting in Evansville.

Gov. Durbin, on learning that Judge Rasch had ordered Brown to Evansville for immediate trial, wired Judge Rasch that he would not allow the prisoner to be taken from the state prison at this time. He doubted if a fair trial could be secured, and under the present conditions it would be too dangerous for the prisoner to be taken to Evansville. Judge Rasch, immediately on receipt of the governor's order, wired Sheriff Kratz to return without the prisoner. He said the trial would be postponed indefinitely.

There were five arrests yesterday on grand jury indictments for the rioting Sunday night. Those under arrest are Richard Grosbeck, who was Democratic candidate for clerk; H. P. Howell, a furniture merchant; J. T. Zeigler, Wm. Trimble and James Steele. All were released under bond.

AMERICAN STEAMERS REPORTED CAPTURED

Port of Spain, Trinidad, July 9.—The French gunboat Joffroy passed here on her way to Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela, which is in the hands of the revolutionists, to protect French interests and collect documents relating to claims arising from the revolution, the postoffice authorities at Ciudad Bolivar having detained them for three months to prevent them being presented to the mixed tribunal.

It is reported from Ciudad Bolivar, Venezuela, that the Venezuelan government forces yesterday captured three American steamers near Apure and five revolutionists at Ciudad Bolivar have captured two American vessels.

An attack on Ciudad Bolivar is expected to take place tomorrow, but before attacking the city Gen. Gomez will offer Gen. Rolando, commander of the revolutionists, in the name of President Castro, the presidency of the state of Venezuela if Rolando will support the Venezuelan government.

THE POPE BECOMES SUDDENLY WORSE TODAY

Rome, July 9.—The Pope was suddenly attacked this afternoon by diarrhoea caused by the large quantity of food he had taken and the new development augments his weakness. The condition of his lungs is not worse, however. There is as yet no suspicion of serious gathering in the pleura, but the disorder of his kidneys is disquieting.

During the early part of the night his holiness was somewhat restless. The occasional brief periods of sleep were disturbed by difficulty in breathing. Dr. Lepponi and Pope Leo's valet, Pio Centra, did their best to nourish the patient at brief intervals. The pontiff spoke little, and seemed much depressed. Chloral and caffeine were administered with good effects. About sunrise the pontiff fell into a more restorative sleep than he had had all night.

U. S. NAVAL OFFICERS ENTERTAINED BY KING

London, July 9.—King Edward signally honored the officers of the American squadron last night at the state ball given at Buckingham Palace—the climax of the visit of President Loubet. His majesty formally received Admiral Cotton, the captain of the American ships and twenty-five of the American officers, and Queen Alexandra later gave them the same distinction. The ball—the first since the accession of King Edward—was a brilliant function, 2,200 guests being present, including President Loubet and his suite, particularly all the ambassadors and ministers in London, most of the members of the royal family, present representatives of the nobility and the officers of the American and French squadrons now in British waters.

MANY SOLDIERS TO MANEUVER IN KENTUCKY

Washington, July 9.—Gen. Bates has informed the war department that nine regiments of militia from the Middle States and thirty companies of regular troops will assemble in campment at West Point, Ky., the last of the month for maneuvers and instruction. This will be one of the largest camps in the country, and will bring many thousand troops to Kentucky.

HE MAY HAVE TO DIG

"Rev." Grayor Fined in Police Court by Judge Crice.

Searching Party Went Ont, But Could Not Find Him—Today's Police Court.

OF INTEREST FROM CITY HALL

Special Judge Tom Crice yesterday afternoon late assessed a fine of $15 and costs against "Rev." W. M. Grayor, the colored preacher charged with using incendiary language on the streets and inciting the ignorant classes who hear him to commit acts tending to create trouble. He paid his fine and costs, amounting to about $30, and is still in the city so far as is known.

A number of people who think that Grayor is a hypocrite and trouble-maker went out last night, according to reports, to escort him from the confines of the city and advise him to remain outside hereafter, but he could not be found. It seems there is no objection to free speech, but some of the language used by Grayor is said to have a tendency to incite race trouble, and as he has been warned to desist and hasn't done it, there is a disposition in some quarters to make him "move on." The police do not believe he will take any chances by remaining here.

Marshal Crow thinks a great many dogs have no legal right to reside in Paducah because no license has been paid on them. He expects shortly to begin setting warrants against owners who fail to pay the tax. The cows are not giving so much trouble now as they did a short time ago. The police find that certain classes take a great deal of rope and have to be called down occasionally. A week or two ago scores and scores of cows were turned out on the streets day and night, and became so bad that complaints fairly flooded the city. The police began impounding them, and even when the owner wasn't fined he had to pay the board bill at the livery stable, which amounted to enough to feed the animal for a week or longer, and it became evident that it would be cheaper to keep the cow up, and a great many people are doing it now.

A very unusual case of "double-header" theft was reported to Marshal Crow today, and although no names could be learned the officers are looking into the matter and hope to soon report developments.

Yesterday afternoon a railroad negro reported that a fine coat had been stolen from him. He claimed he had a $35 suit and only the coat was stolen. The officers were being instructed when Mr. Frank Lawrence, the second hand dealer, reported that the negro had brought the coat to him, alleging that it was his property, and wanted to sell it. Mr. Lawrence lacked 10 cents of having the correct change and went out to secure it, leaving part of the money in the hands of the negro, who took coat, money and all and made a hasty exit. The officers have a good description of the negro, but have not found him.

Yesterday's Cairo papers state that Alonzo Hubert, a Paducah negro, is under arrest there for assaulting with criminal intent a white woman on the Mound City road. No man by that name seems to be known here.

Only one offender was before Judge Sanders this morning. Van Bessum, colored, for jumping on and off a train, was fined $10 and costs, which will be sufficient to hold him for awhile.

Officer John Hovious has resigned his position on the police force and accepted the place of chief engineer on the City of Memphis. Officer Tom Murray is working in his place and will probably be appointed permanently.

HER PRISON WORK

Mrs. Lehman Discusses it Little in Her Address.

Instead She Discusses "Opportunities" and Applies it to Local Government.

TALKS TO A REPORTER

Mrs. Carrie A. Lehman, of Louisville, representative of the Howard association, of prison work, for Kentucky, spoke at the First Cumberland Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. Mrs. Lehman said that she felt impelled not to speak of her work, but of other things. She took as her subject, "Opportunities," and made local application of it by dwelling on the opportunities of the citizen and the official, incidentally referring to the purpose of the Good Government league.

Mrs. Lehman in talking of her work to a Sun reporter, said that it was making fine progress.

"Of 136 Kentucky convicts for whom employment was gotten last year," she said, "only nine have fallen from honest living and lost their positions."

"The hardest class with which we have to deal," said Mrs. Lehman, "are the negro convicts. They do not feel the disgrace of imprisonment, and in nine cases out of ten their relatives receive them back home from the penitentiary as if they had been to some watering place. The trip is regarded as something of an event and a kind of honor."

"In dealing with the negro I try to create in him a pride in his race. I deem it his only salvation."

Mrs. Lehman told of a rather novel way in which she made an effort to awaken this race pride not long since.

"I was talking to a meeting of colored mothers in Atlanta, Ga.," said the reformer, "and I made the remark that I wished some doll manufactory would make pretty negro dolls. You colored mothers want to raise your daughters to be more than nurse girls, and when they have a white doll they are simply nurses to white babies. You want to teach them to be mothers, and to do it, their doll babies must look like them, so they may feel that they really belong to them."

"I did not know how they would like the idea, but to my gratification they seemed pleased with it."

Mrs. Lehman has received a letter since she has been in the city from Rev. Samuel Small, asking her assistance in his plan to establish some negro towns in Georgia, governed by negro authorities, and inhabited only by negroes. She will decline to accept the proposition however.

"If I can save even a few of the boys of Kentucky I will feel that my life has not been in vain. This is my work and where my loyalty lies."

WORK REALLY BEGINS

TOOL HOUSE AND OFFICE AT THE CUSTOM HOUSE NOW.

Contractor Bailey will today commence a tool house and office on the government building grounds, to be occupied during the progress of the work on the big addition. Active work will now begin, as the railroad will be able to handle the material since the bridge is completed.

Capt. Harry B. Jenks of Louisville, superintendent of this district of the U. S. mail service, was in the city today on business. The mail service down in this section was made very irregular by the recent accident at the Tennessee river bridge, but is now resuming its former efficiency.

Postman Ailard Williams is quite ill, and Supt. Fred Ashton of carriers is carrying his route for him.

AUTUMN POLITICS

Several Important Elections to be Held This Year.

A Star Feature This Fall May be the Campaign in New York State.

THE OHIO STATE CAMPAIGN

Washington, July 9—Politically, 1903 is an off year. There are few important elections to be held this autumn, so most of the states will be free from election turmoil, although some states that do not choose governors and legislatures will elect minor state officers. Pennsylvania for instance. Nevertheless the present autumn will be important politically because of elections in several states that will have an interesting bearing on the presidential campaign of next year. It is in the off years that the party not in control nationally has an opportunity to receive encouragement by active campaigning when the dominant party's over-confidence gives it the opportunity.

Perhaps the most important election of this year is not a state election, but a municipal one. That election will be held in the city of New York, which in population, wealth and national importance surpasses the majority of the states. If Tammany Hall is able to capture New York's city government this autumn it will strengthen Democracy for the presidential campaign and give the Democrats confidence of being able to capture New York state. Control of the city government of New York will mean to a great degree control of the election returns from that city, and give the opportunity of piling up a majority for the Democratic national ticket which it will be difficult for the up-state Republicans to overcome, no matter how aggressively active they may be.

Therefore the municipal election in New York City this autumn will be of immense interest nationally. It is probable that should Maryland go Democratic Gorman would be more prominent as a presidential possibility than any so-called conservative Democrat who has been named, Judge Parker of New York not excepted.

The Ohio campaign will be of great interest, not only because Ohio campaigns always have an element of particular interest, but because the election may furnish the Republicans a vice presidential candidate in the person of Myron T. Herrick, the Republican gubernatorial candidate. The campaign has the other element of interest that Senator M. A. Hanna is up for re-election. While there is a distinct element of doubt as to the result of the municipal election in New York City this autumn, and while Maryland can properly be classed as uncertain, there is hardly a doubt that Herrick will be elected governor of Ohio and Hanna will be assured of re-election by the choice of a Republican legislature.

Kentucky will have a most interesting gubernatorial struggle this year and one that, while of the greatest importance to that commonwealth, may assume great national interest.

Next to the New York municipal fight the election in Maryland is probably next in importance. Maryland elects this autumn not only a governor, but a legislature whose duty it will be to select a United States senator. The present governor of Maryland is a Democrat and the legislature is Democratic, but the senator, McComa, whose term of office expires in March, 1905, and whose successor is to be chosen by the legislature elected this next November, is a Republican. But the election not only concerns the possible chance of a Republican for a Democrat in the senate. It vitally affects the Democratic senator from Maryland, who is now one of the most prominent presidential possibilities, Arthur Pue Gorman. If the Democrats, under his leadership, succeed in carrying Maryland, it will add to Gorman's political prestige and make him powerful with those Democrats who oppose Bryanism.

Virginia will elect a legislature in the autumn which will re-elect Senator Daniel, who has served his state with ability and dignity for several terms. He is a Democrat who is respected without exception by every member of the senate.

In Rhode Island the gubernatorial election will be decidedly interesting because R. C. Garvin, the present governor, a Democrat, will come up for re-election. Gov. Garvin was elected last year by a small majority. At the same election the Republicans lost a Republican, which was quite exceptional, the last time a Democrat was sent to the house from that state being in 1900.

Mississippi will elect a governor and legislature this autumn. The chief interest in that election is as to the personality of the next senator, the fight being between Senator Money, the incumbent, and Gov. Longino.

Louisiana elects a governor this year, but the election is of little interest outside of that state. Massachusetts, which, like Rhode Island, chooses a governor for one year only, will have its usual contest. It is believed that Gov. Bates will have no difficulty in exceeding his first majority for governor.

Vermont will also choose a governor, but the election being so one-sided is uninteresting except to Vermonters.

PADUCAH BOY.

BECOMES INTERESTED IN NEW COMPANY AT OWENSBORO.

The Owensboro Messenger gives the particulars of a new company organized there in which Mr. Mike F. Korts, formerly of Paducah, will be vice president and secretary. Says the Messenger:

"Articles of incorporation of the George H. Cox company were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday. The incorporators are George H. Cox, who will be president and treasurer; M. F. Korts, vice president and secretary, and E. Pettit Cox. The capital stock is $10,000, and of this $7,500 has been paid in. The incorporation is to run twenty-five years. The object of the corporation, as set forth in the articles, is to do a general book-selling, stationery and publishing business.

"Mr. Cox has been very successful in the same business since establishing it several years ago, and even greater prosperity no doubt will come to the better equipped and the superior organization."

THE BOSS WORM MEDICINE.

H. P. Kumpke, druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child which was sick and threw up all food; could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Fulton, July 9—Cammie, the 12 year old daughter of Mr. Wm. Laconia, was killed by lightning near her home near Greenfield, Tenn. Mr. Laconia was formerly a resident of Ohio county, just south of Fulton. The remains of the child were brought to Fulton for burial.

THE PERFECT LIVER MEDICINE.

Mrs. M. A. Jolley, Noble, O. T., writes: "I have used Herbine for a number of years and can cheerfully recommend it is the most perfect liver medicine and the greatest blood purifier. It is a medicine of positive merit and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find a lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

A BIG RUSH NOW ON

Many Trains Passing Over the Illinois Central.

Road Trying to Make Up for Lost Time—Railroad Earnings of All Roads.

OTHER LATE RAILROAD NEWS

The freight and passenger trains are now running over the Tennessee river bridge regularly and all derrick boats and pile drivers are being removed from the scene. The amount of business in freight traffic being done now is enormous, the I. C. putting forth every possible effort to catch up in the freight loss.

Over fourteen freight trains left here last night and nearly that many came in. All available engines are being used in handling the accumulated business and the rush is so great that all additional help possible to secure is being employed.

The new span built temporarily is perhaps as strong as a new steel bridge, but it is rumored that a new bridge will be built to replace the present one.

The damage to the railroad company has been greater in the loss of the span and the time and labor than in loss of freight patronage. All freight for the south was sent around via Evansville and all east was taken via Carbondale. Comparatively little freight business was lost, but much time was consumed in taking it around and in the extra crew service.

Mr. Lloyd Grimes, traveling engineer of the Louisville division of the I. C. of this city, from reports had a narrow escape from drowning yesterday in Tennessee river while assisting in putting up the new span.

Mr. Grimes was assisting in carrying timber, as was every other official and laborer at the scene, and was walking a narrow gang plank when he slipped off. He was rescued by several river men, who took him in with a small boat. This and the injury to Mr. C. E. Smith were the only accidents that happened during the time the bridge was being repaired.

Nearly the entire force of workmen in the woodworking department of the I. C. shops was out today attending the funeral of Mr. William Denton, who died Tuesday on Jackson street. The funeral is being held at Woodville, burial at McKendree cemetery.

MR. EUGENE GLEAVES RETURNS TO ACCEPT A POSITION WITH LOCAL COMPANY.

Mr. Eugene Gleaves, formerly of J. W. Gleaves & Sons, the city, but for the past two or three years of Carthage, Mo., is in the city today on a brief business trip. He has been traveling for the American Cycle company, but has resigned to travel for the Sutherland Medicine company, of Paducah, and will make the city his headquarters, but will not move his family here owing to Mrs. Gleaves' health, which her many friends will be pleased to learn is better than formerly, but not well.

It is Mr. Gleaves' first visit to Paducah in quite a while, and his many friends are pleased to see him. He leaves for Missouri this evening at 6 o'clock.

CURES SCIATICA.

Rev. W. L. Riley, D.D., Cuba, N. Y., writes: "After fifteen days of excruciating pain from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, the first application giving my first relief, and the second entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c and $1 at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

CHILD KILLED BY TRAIN.

Union City, Tenn., July 9—Bertha Kaffer, 6 years old, daughter of Peter Kaffer, of Rives, while playing on a bare beam of a car was thrown to the track by a train backing to it to couple on. She was run over and received injuries from which she died four hours later.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE.

Frankfort, July 9—Chairman Allice Young has issued a call for the meeting of the Democratic state central committee at Frankfort on Monday, July 13.

Honesty will win out in everything. It has proven it in our own case.

For men, women and children here's the place to buy shoes.

LENDLER & LYDON,

The People Who Save You Money on Every Purchase.

By "X-Rays."

Just for once won't you try a pair of shoes that are not made from guesswork measurements of what your foot ought to be, but from "X-ray" photographs of what women's feet really are?

The "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe is exactly shaped to the bones, muscles, and ligaments of the foot.

as they are plainly revealed by "X-ray" photograph. This is the explanation of why you hear so much talk on all sides about the wonderful "Fit of a 'Dorothy Dodd.'" The shoe deserves its popular nickname of "an arrangement in comfort." But all this is of no help to you unless you own a pair. On the day you buy them you will learn a new lesson in Foot Comfort.

After that, no one can sell you any other shoe but a "Dorothy Dodd."

REV. T. J. NEWELL REPLIES.

MAKES CLEARER WHAT HE SAID BEFORE GOOD GOVERNMENT LEAGUE.

Mr. Editor:

Dear Sir:—Allow me through the columns of your paper to address a reply to the article which appeared in The Sun of July 8 from the "Jewish Citizens of Paducah." Let me first of all say that I did not charge the Russian Jew with bringing fatal disaster upon himself. The statement which I made before the Good Government League was: "It puts a man in a very awkward attitude to come from our courts of justice, having pleaded guilty to the violation of the law, and having paid his fine for the same, and at once petition the authorities of this nation to demand protection for his people against lawlessness in another government. Would you tear down the temple of legal protection which is over our heads in this land as it was torn down in Russia on the heads of your brethren?"

The disaster that has come to the Jewish people in Russia has not been produced by the doing of one day, either by the Jew or Gentile. One needs to read history only a little to observe that little by little has the great bulwark of legal protection been hewn down until a storm of lawlessness swept to the death a company of defenseless Hebrews. The awful consequences were the same, whether the protection of the law was stolen away by Jew or Gentile, and the cold facts of history will put the blame where it rightfully belongs. But as I did not intend to even suggest that the Russian Jew brought upon himself this dire calamity I shall have nothing further to say of that matter—the thing that interests this community now is not in Russia.

It would be difficult to make me believe that the many law-abiding Jewish citizens who are to be found in this city are in sympathy with Mr. Ben Weille's persistent violation of the laws of the commonwealth of Kentucky. He cannot plead that he does not violate the law, and also undertake to protect others banded with him in the violation of the same, for he did on May 25, in the court of Esq. J. H. Burnett, and on July 6, in the court of Esq. Barber, plead guilty to the violation of said Sunday law, and claimed that the payment of his fine was a sufficient satisfaction before the law for the offense committed by himself and those employed by him. He has persistently, from Sabbath to Sabbath, violated the same statute and usually on Monday, pays his fine. Now I desire to ask if we are to understand that the "Jewish citizens of Paducah" do support Mr. Benjamin Weille in the continuous violation of the law of the commonwealth under which they live? I do not believe they do. I am sure that the best Jewish citizens of this city are in harmony with the observance of the laws of this land. If Mr. Weille has the right to organize and pay a band of young men and go forth to violate the laws of the commonwealth, which have been enacted to protect the Christian Sabbath from desecration, then he has a right to organize a band of young men to go forth and violate any law which is offensive to him. If he has such a right, every man has such a right. If he desires to organize for the purpose of theft and robbery he has the very same right to do so. If a number of men desire to band themselves together to desecrate the sacred precincts of our domestic firesides they have the very same right. If Mr. Weille desires to organize a band of young men to go up and down the streets of Paducah by night terrorizing the peaceful inhabitants of the city he has the very same right. If he desires to band together a company of men to gamble, and so entrench themselves that the enforcement of law against them is utterly impossible, he has the same right. When you begin the tearing down of law, where will you end? Not often this side of Breathtown, Ky. If he can expect the enforcement of the good Jewish citizens in this open and persistent violation of the Sabbath law, may not men expect their support in the violation of the "temperance laws," "the gambling laws" and the laws protecting us in decency and virtue? If he can gather together thousands of the boys on a Sabbath afternoon and teach them, both by precept and example, to disregard the laws governing the civil Sabbath, why may he not gather together the sons of every family in Paducah and teach them that no law is superior to the desires of men? Where are we? Are the good people of Paducah—Jews or Gentiles—ready to endorse this utter disregard of the civil law of our land—and are they ready to aid him and those banded with him in so evading the courts as to enable each offender to go free though the whole community know them to be guilty?

If the "Jewish citizens of Paducah" are in favor of thus stealing away the protection that is guaranteed to them and to their property by the laws of the land, then I have misunderstood a great body of intelligent citizens with whom I have been kindly identified for these forty years.

Allow me, Mr. Editor, in conclusion to say that there can be no great personal liberty or enduring prosperity where lawlessness is fostered, and the time has come in the history of the ongoings of this nation and state when its good citizens, of every name and order, of every nationality and creed, must stand together for the enforcement of the civil law of our land. And he who is opposed to law and its enforcement, let him sign his name to a protest to this article.

THOS. J. NEWELL.

SHIP CARPENTER DIED

OLD AGE AND RECENT BURNS RESULT IN HIS DEATH.

Mr. George Shane, an aged retired ship carpenter, died at 1 o'clock this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Hannan, in Arcadia, from general debility and burns he received a week or two ago. He had lived in Paducah for the past thirty years, having come from Louisville, and for the past several years had been an invalid.

Several days ago a spark from his pipe fell on the bed and ignited the cover, painfully burning the venerable patient before assistance could reach him, and these injuries hastened his death.

He was the last member of his family, but leaves besides his daughter a nephew, Alex Shane of Frankfort, Ind.

CAIRO SHUTS

OUT CLARKSVILLE
Clarksville, July 9—Clarksville, which shut out Cairo the day before, were yesterday shut out by Cairo. Score, Cairo 6, 13, 1; Clarksville 0, 10, 2. Brockett and Rutledge for Cairo. Betts and Holmes for Clarksville.

AT HENDERSON.

Henderson, July 9—Henderson 7, Jackson 0. Batteries—Garner and Walters, Cole and Petit.

A large crowd was disappointed yesterday afternoon at Wallace park when rain broke up what promised to be a fast game between Paducah and Hopkinsville. Hoptown went to the bat first and failed to score. Girard hit safe to right field but tried trying to steal second. Clifford walked and Murray drove to left field for three bags, scoring Clifford. Edmunds hit to short, scoring Murray, and at this juncture the rain was so hard time had to be called. It would have been impossible to play on the grounds when the rain stopped and the spectators were given rain checks good next Sunday. As five innings had not been played, it was no game.

HOPTOWN'S ROOTERS.

A rooters' club has been organized here and they are practicing regularly and will get in their first work on Thursday when Jackson opens for three games. Megaphones larger than ever before seen are being constructed and will be presided over by such dyed-in-the-wool fans as John Stites, Hiram Thomas, Jake Samuels, Jack Tobin, Harry Lebkenecher and others equally as strong lunged and having the knack of saying the right thing at the right time. Hopkinsville has had such a hard time in the past with the snipers that a gallows with black cap and rope will be in readiness for the next juggler of the indicator who does not "tote fair." From the work of the rooters in Saturday's games, before the club was organized or had had any systematic practice, it is a cinch that they will be able to rattle any man or team they let loose upon.—Hopkinsville New Era.

COLORED TEAMS PLAY

HERE THREE DAYS

Ben Boyd's club promises to take three straights from a Hopkinsville club which arrived today for three games, beginning this afternoon. The club has been defeated but one time out of nine games.

DOPE.

After the series of three games with Clarksville the local team will return home and on Sunday will play an exhibition game with Jackson. On the following Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday three games will be played with Jackson and then Hopkinsville will return here for three games. Hopkinsville will be followed by three games with Clarksville here and then the Paducah boys will go to Henderson to play three games and on return will meet Cairo here in a series of three games.

Perry and Akers were left at home to recuperate from injuries. Akers has a sprained ankle and Perry's finger is injured. They will both be seen in one position only hereafter. This has been one flank with the local management, the too much changing of players. No pitchers will be worked at any other place than in the box and Perry and Kelley will act alternately behind the bat.

Wilson has been released by the local management and Orr retained in his stead. Wilson is a good pitcher and has won every game he has played in except one. Orr was considered a better pitcher, and as the list is full the management released one. The staff of pitchers now is Freeman, Orr, Girard and Best.

The lineup of the team will hereafter be as follows, and each player will be held in his position: Kelley and Perry, catchers; Freeman, Girard, Best and Orr, pitchers; Edmunds, first base; Gage, second base; Connors, third base; LeCompte, short stop; Murray, left field; Clifford, center field; Akers, right field.

Paducah had an excellent lead on Hopkinsville in yesterday's game and the local fans were sorry to see the rain interfere. In the first inning the Hopkinsville boys were unable to secure a run and Paducah made two while two men were out.

Lon Hedges pitched Tuesday's game for Jackson, but lost it. It was a good game, however.

ELDERS HALL AND PIGUE DEBATING AT YORKVILLE.

Elder J. N. Hall and Rev. R. H. Pigue who conducted a debate at Sedalia, Ky., last week, this week held a debate at Yorkville, Tenn., six miles from Newbern. A letter states that full 5,000 people heard the debate Sunday and 3,000 Monday. The debate closed last evening, the subject being the same as was discussed at Sedalia.

Why It Veered.

"What in the name of sense is this world coming to, anyway?" peevishly queried the chauffeur, as the stray planet he was guiding escaped from the vigilance of inertia and started on an interstellar hike. A cautious passenger leaned over the edge of the car and gasped: "It's the earth! Turn the lever to the right quick or we'll collide, and Pierpont Morgan will sue us for damages."—Baltimore American.

LITTLE COINS OF SENTIMENT.

Immense Amount of Treasure That is Stowed Away.

A little girl just convalescing from a fever had grown tired of seeing the assortment of curios that happened to be in the possession of the family, and begged for something new to look upon. Finally, after diversions failed to divert, the tired mother-nurse brought out a little pocketbook which yielded an old-fashioned three-cent piece, a two-cent piece, a nickel and two pennies.

"This," said the mother, "belonged to my little brother, who died when he was 8 years old. There were three sisters in our family, and the other two each had a quarter of a dollar to keep in remembrance of our little brother's frugality. I remember his savings were all in anticipation of buying a horse. Nothing could induce me to part with this treasure, hoarded away by little hands long since passed to the great unknown."

This leads one to think of the money that in little amounts has been stored away as sentimental treasure—money that exists to-day, but has dropped out of the great circulating money current. Hundreds—yes, thousands—of dollars are stored away, because their dates correspond with certain events. This woman has a silver dollar that represents the date of her marriage; that man has a quarter that was presented to him the day he first saw the light of day. Why, there are even faithful lovers of chronology who hang all the links of history in consecutive order on an old box full of coins that would not for their intrinsic value buy one square meal at an East Side Hungarian restaurant. Yet how many of these collections are there which in the aggregate amount to a goodly sum.

Human nature being the same, it would be a difficult matter to estimate in bulk the amount of money that today lies dormant, without reference to coin collectors, but speaking only of "sentiment" money that is treasured through at least one generation, and maybe longer.

If this hoarded money could be collected and applied to some worthy cause the result would probably be one of the great surprises of the day.

New Issue for Kansas.

In Kansas a new issue has projected itself on the public. A new head of the state university just arrived from the east has tried to make the professors wear caps and gowns during class work, with the result of evoking scoffs from students and condemnatory resolutions from politicians. Eastern contemporaries are commenting on the narrowness of fighting against caps and gowns, but a word or two might be said on the narrowness of fighting to introduce them where they are not wanted.—Exchange.

The Professor Said "DON'T DRINK COFFEE"

(A certain Professor in a Chicago University in a late talk to students)

"We talk of drunkenness as a crime," he continued, "but tea and coffee drinking at meals is more injurious than liquor to some men."

Tea and coffee drinking, Prof. told his class, is responsible for much of the restlessness of the American nation.

Think they will quit?

Yes. Many of them know that with good health they can "do things" in this world, so when they find stomach trouble, weak eyes, bad blood and muddy skin, or any of the many incipient signs of disease set up by Coffee they quit.

Then they take on Postum Coffee

Because it furnishes the Coffee flavor, charming color and all the pleasure of Coffee drinking and does not destroy stomach and nerves but makes for the sure rebuilding of the entire body on healthful, sturdy lines.

WORLD'S FAIR POSTPONEMENT.

Those who fear they will not be able to save up enough to pay hotel bills and indulge in the luxury of being robbed in other ways while in St. Louis attending the fair may take hope, as the indications are the big show will have to be postponed again. There has been much done, but is still much more to do, and even if the exposition were completed by the time specified, ten months from now, St. Louis would hardly be ready for the crowds. Of course it will be a disappointment to the public if the fair is again postponed, and the directors are now busy denying that it will be, as they did just before it was postponed before. It is possible, however, that the public at large would prefer to visit the fair and find everything ready, and St. Louis prepared to take care of her guests, than to do otherwise.

The St. Louis Mirror says:

"There are now remaining but ten months in which to complete the fair by the date set for the opening. All the main buildings are not completed. The government building is still only on paper. The electric lighting plant which cannot be installed in less than a year, has not yet been begun. Ground has not been broken for a single one of the state buildings or for the foreign buildings. There is not, in the opinion of competent architects and contractors, the remotest possibility that the erection of the remaining main structures, the state buildings, the foreign buildings, the completion of the landscaping of the grounds and other work necessary to the preparation of a fair in impressive totality, will be done within the time remaining between now and May 1, 1904. The foreign exhibits will hardly be ready within the time allotted. The state buildings are as backward in progress of construction as the foreign buildings. The site for the state buildings have been selected. The plans for most of them have not been drawn. If we are to reckon on the usual delay in governmental process, foreign and domestic, it is easy to see that ten months is an incredibly short time to complete the fair, install the exhibits and shape up the ground for the advertised opening day."

The trust idea does not seem confined exclusively to the rich and powerful. It occasionally crops out in the farmer and laboring man. Over in Illinois the wheat threshers are having a hard time. In several of the counties some of the farmers who own threshers are not allowed to go outside their own county to do any threshing because there happens to be someone else who wants to do it all. One fellow with more threshers than he could use at home tried to do a little business in a neighboring county, so the "trust" benevolently put iron in the thrasher and almost ruined it, and in addition taught the farmers a lesson by burning the barn of the man who employed the outside man to do the threshing. The rural "octopus" thus has the men with threshers afraid to go into other counties, and the farmers afraid if they employ outside threshers their property will be burned, and it beats the Standard Oil company or the steel trust all hollow for as successful methods of robbery concerned.

Wonder officers of the law are often hard-hearted. The jailer at Lexington, Ky., ought to be a veritable fiend by this time. Not long since a condemned prisoner secured poison and killed himself the day he was to have been executed, and the jailer got the blame for it because he had allowed the prisoner to see his friends. Claude O'Brien, one of the youthful murderers of a prominent citizen whose house he was trying to rob, has been allowed to see some of his near relatives, although the jailer, profiting by his experience with the other prisoner, was at first inclined to deny the privilege, although it would have been hard to keep a mother from seeing her condemned son. He is now repaid by finding six steel saws in the prisoner's cell.

A call has been made on Mr. A. J. Decker, through the local press today to stand for the Democratic nomination for mayor. It has been rumored for some time that Mr. Decker would be a candidate, but he has never given a definite answer to the importunities of his friends. While The Sun believes it is in the cards for Paducah to elect a Republican administration this year still it is pleased to see such men as Mr. Decker mentioned as a possibility from the Democratic standpoint. It is only by securing such progressive men to manage municipal affairs that Paducah can ever hope to get out of the rut into which it has been thrown by the petty politicians who have been at the head of the local government.

A Cairo girl in a letter to the Telegram says: "Well, here I am at the foot of Pike's Peak, 4,000 miles above the sea level, with its snow capped top, shining like a great pearl in the sun." But poor girl, no wonder she thought the elevation was 4,000 miles instead of feet! Anyone living in a hole like Cairo would have thought the same thing.

Jackson, Ky., is rapidly swinging around into fire and may soon be a civilized community. There is now a city attorney and city marshal, but the officer who seems to have been needed more than any other in past years, the coroner, is yet to be found. Nobody wants the job.

The trouble in Evansville seems to be over, unless they now get to fighting over whose negligence and indifference caused the bloodshed.

PREPARATIONS MADE TO FILE ONE IN HOLLIS CASE.

Attorney Houser of Clarksville is here today collecting evidence in the death of J. D. Hollis, the track foreman on the Illinois Central killed near Maxon's Mills a few days ago. Hollis, it will be remembered, jumped from a tank car which flew the track and was run over.

The jury which investigated the case has never yet signed a verdict, Coroner Peal having been unable to get them together again, but he will have them sign the verdict tomorrow, all agreeing that it was death due to unavoidable accident.

SOME REASONS.

WHY PADUCAH PEOPLE SHOULD FOLLOW THIS VALUABLE ADVICE.

Because the proof is in Paducah. You can easily investigate it. Not necessary to experiment. With some untired remedy. Profit by the experience of a citizen.

Mr. W. H. Smith, of 1204 South Fourth street, says: "When a remedy brings relief to a man who has had aches and pains across his loins and above his hips for years; who was often compelled to lie down from sheer exhaustion and excruciating suffering, who often could not rise from a couch or a bed without assistance, who tried plasters, mustard, and everything recommended and who may have got temporary help, it is no wonder he becomes enthusiastic over the means employed to give him relief. I took a course of the treatment prescribed by Doan's Kidney Pills, procuring them at DuBois & Co's drug store. To say I recommend the preparations" mildly expresses my opinion of it."

Jerry Winston Proves to be Charles Black.

He Will be Tried for Killing a Laborer on Cairo Railroad.

Jerry Winston, the negro arrested here several days ago by Officers Austin and Woods for the alleged murder of the Johnson negro on the Cairo extension of the I. C. several weeks ago, has been positively identified at Wickliffe, where he was taken, and will be given an examining trial today or tomorrow.

The prisoner gave the name of Jerry Winston here, but when persons who know him saw him in Wickliffe and identified him they saw it was Charlie Black. This was the name the prisoner went under when he was supposed to have shot Johnson. He escaped and had not been heard from until arrested here.

A MISUNDERSTANDING.

CAUSED THE TROUBLE OVER STENOGRAPHER BARKLEY'S HILL.

It seems the trouble over Stenographer A. W. Barkley's bill presented to the board of education Tuesday night and partly rejected, will be settled, as it resulted from a misunderstanding. Mr. Barkley stated to the Sun today that Prof. Snider came after him to take the evidence in the recent investigation, and assured him that if the school board would not pay the bill, he, Prof. Snider, would.

After the evidence was taken the board of education ordered Mr. Barkley to transcribe it, and the bill for the whole thing was sent in to the board. It seems Prof. Snider had offered to pay it all, but the investigating committee insisted on paying half of it, and has done it. Prof. Snider will pay the other half and everybody will be satisfied. The only agreement Mr. Barkley had with Prof. Snider, it seems, was that Prof. Snider would pay the bill if the school board did not, and the school board had an agreement with Prof. Snider that the latter was to pay half.

Mr. Barkley understood the board was to pay the whole bill, while the board knew Prof. Snider was to pay half, and refused only on this account.

ENGINE TURNED OVER

CLOSE CALL OF PADUCAH MAN IN MEMPHIS.

Fireman W. T. Ungermach, who runs out of Memphis on the I. C. road, was injured in an accident at Memphis last night and was brought to this city, his home, today for treatment. He was firing on an engine which jumped the rails and turned over. The engineer and Ungermach jumped and both escaped, but the latter got an ankle twisted in alighting and his body bruised. He is not seriously injured, but will be laid up for some time. The engine narrowly missed falling on him and he rolled out of the way by a few inches only.

STEAM SHOVEL

A BIG IMPROVEMENT TO BE MADE BY PADUCAH COAL CO.

The Paducah Coal and Mining Co. is in a few days to place a steam shovel at work here to unload coal from barges at this port. These shovels are very valuable and very useful. Heretofore it has required fifteen or twenty men from two to three days to unload a barge of coal by hand. The steam shovel will unload two of these barges in one day, thus accomplishing a great deal of work in a short time and saving a great deal of expense.

EAR HURT

LABORER AT IRON FURNACE HAS ONE MASHED NEARLY OFF.

Drs. Robertson and Hoyer were called to the Iron furnace on South Third street yesterday afternoon to attend Fount Ragon, an employe who while at work was struck in the head by a piece of timber which split and had his right ear cut almost off. It was found hanging on by a piece of skin only, and the injury will lay him up for some time.

Mr. John Sinnott, Jr., went to Princeton today at noon on business.

STRUCK BY BOLT

Lightning Comes Near Killing
Will Morton in County

Also Burned Out "Tester" at Fire
Station in the City.

Lightning created considerable excitement yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock at the Henry Cornhill place on the Cairo road about three miles from the city. A bolt struck a cedar tree in the yard and knocked down Will Morton, colored, who was working about the place when the thunder storm came up, but did not seriously injure him.

It then went down a telephone wire into the house, but did no damage other than burning out the telephone. A large number of birds in the tree were killed by the shock and their bodies were found all over the ground after the storm.

Lightning also struck a wire and burned out the "tester" in Central Fire station on North Fourth street in the city. The damage has now been repaired.

Widow's Prey Chooses the Lesser of Two Evils.

Where I had stopped to water my horse by a good sized wayside pond an old woman was sitting with a determined look on her lean visage and a good sized hickory club in her knotted hand; she hailed me as I was about to ride away, and I stopped to see what she wanted.

"Stranger," said she, "how long kin a man kitter stay under water?"

"The average," replied I, "is about a minute, but exceptional cases have been known when they have stayed under longer."

"Well, this is one of them there exceptional cases."

"The record, I believe, is four minutes."

"Not longer'n that?"

"No, certainly not longer. Why do you ask?"

"Well—yeh know Josh Hurdsett?"

"No, I don't believe I do."

"Well, Josh has been settin' up with me a-holdin' ban's fer nigh on three years now. Stranger, wouldn't yeh 'low from that that he had serious intentions?"

"I certainly would."

"That's what I 'lowed, an' when he come over ter my house this mornin' an' I ed that he was fingerin' on marryin' the Widder Benson—wall, that's when it come off! He lit inter the road a-movin' an' with me jest clost enuff ter tech his coat-tails, but not clost enuff ter git a holt onto 'em. "Why! He must be drowned!"

"Why, he must be."

"Then yeh don't reckon they's any use o' my waitin' any longer?"

THIS HOLDS THE RECORD.

Southern Men Tell of Some Wonderful Railroad Traveling.

A group of railroad men were talking about the fastest rides they ever experienced, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. One man in relating his experiences, said: "Across bays and through marshes we rushed like mad. When we reached the Rigolets the most remarkable thing I ever saw took place. The train was traveling so fast it sucked the water up behind it as it rushed across the trestle, and I could hear the fishes groan as we flew over this neck of the gulf. Most remarkable thing I ever saw in the way of fast runs." And he lapsed into silence.

"I am glad you reminded me of that run," said another member of the group. "I had forgotten the incident. I can vouch for all you say, for I was on the back end of the last coach, and the water which was sucked in behind the train by the vacuum almost washed me overboard, but I held on all right, and when we made the crossing and the waters had receded, I picked up on the platform of the rear coach the finest bunch of fish I ever saw. They were no doubt the fish you heard groaning."

Birthplace of Henry Irving.

In this month sixty-five years ago was born in a village of Somersetshire, England, John Henry Brodribb, better known to the world as Sir Henry Irving. His native place is a little out-of-the-world hamlet six miles from the nearest railway, and the house of his nativity, with an advertisement for somebody's teas, is pointed out to the visitor. The last Irvingite relic disappeared from the village a few years ago, when a gentleman purchased the robes in which the actor was christened.

WHITE STAR COFFEE

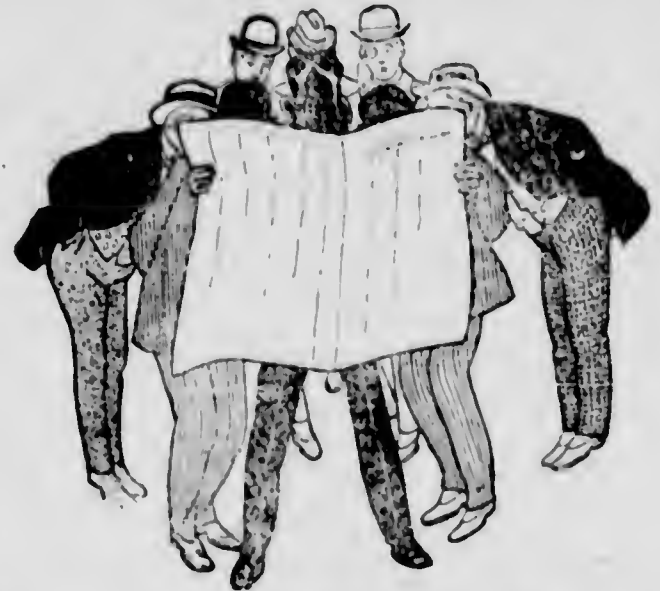

When buying coffee, remember that a tin can will preserve in a correct way the purest qualities of the choicest varieties—that it is the purity and flavor which it is important for you to have—that a coffee marketed upon its reputation is more likely to represent a legitimate value than one that is sold in some other way.

Every cup brewed from any of the White Star varieties has that color—that odor—and

The President's Little Joke. Congressman Alexander of Buffalo took about a dozen Daughters of the Revolution to see the President. The ladies were all dressed up, of course, and they made an imposing procession as they filed into Mr. Roosevelt's room. The President arose with a chuckle and said: "My dear Senator Smoot, how do you do? Please present me." The daughters giggled and Congressman Alexander was so flustered that he could not say a word for a minute or two.

FEED THEM.

THE WAY TO BUILD UP WASTING CHILDREN.

When babies begin to waste away and fail there is but one thing to do and that is find the proper food.

Physicians have never yet found a stomach, young or old, that would not digest the scientific food Grape Nuts, for Grape Nuts is the most perfect food form in the world and will nourish and build up any stomach no matter how weak.

A Washington lady says: "I had lost two children from marasmus, or wasting away, before my little boy Maurice came and when I found nothing agreed with him in the way of food you can imagine how I felt.

"No food seemed to satisfy his little stomach as he would bite his fingers and appeared to be slowly starving to death, crying all the time. It was pitiable to see and hear him and when he was seven months old I certainly thought I would lose him. It was then my sister begged me to try Grape Nuts which I did, using three tablespoonfuls covered with a half pint of boiling water which after standing awhile was strained and fed from the bottle.

"From this time the baby began to improve and he took absolutely no other food until I weaned him from the bottle. He could not take milk in any form except on Grape Nuts. He is now in good health, strong and sturdy and nearly three years old and I am very proud indeed of my Grape Nuts boy." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Supreme Court Justices Circuit.

Nearly every pleasant afternoon the justices of the United States Supreme court walk down Pennsylvania avenue from the capitol to Fourteenth street, about a mile. Newcomers on the Supreme bench are expected to join in this parade. Justice Holmes, who recently took his seat, fell into line really, being fond of walking, but Justice Day, who will soon be one of the august body, does not like it. It is quite likely, however, that he will be broken in before a couple of weeks have passed.

"But that ain't what I started in to tell. As I was a sayin', old June Harlow thought she'd sorter put a word in the dispute to pay for her board an' keep, an' she told itetsy that it was all owin' to the way the Bishops was raised that Alf couldn't stand to have things nice about 'im. She said all the Bishops she'd ever knowed had a natural stoop that they got by livin' in cabins with low roofs. She wasn't spreadin' 'er butter as thick as she thought she was, or maybe it was the sort she was spreadin' for Betsy binzed up like the woods afore in a high wind. It didn't take old June long to diskliver that there was several 'leeds o' Bishops out o' jail, an' she spent most o' the rest o' her life braggin' on 'em she'd read about. She said the name sounded like the start o' 'em had been religious and substantial."

"Brother Abner," whined Mrs. Bishop, "I wish you'd hush all that foolishness an' help me 'n the children out o' this awful fix. Alfred always would listen to you."

"Well," and the old man smiled and winked at the lawyer, "I'll give you both all the advice I kin. Now, the Shout River stock is a good thing right now, but of the mill will be to catch on the an' burn down that'd be a loss. Then as fer timber land, it ain't easy to sell, but I might take a start before another flood. I say it might, an' then agin it mightn't. The mill might burn, an' then agin it mightn't. Now, of you uns kin be helped by this advice you are welcome to it free o' charge. Not changin' the subject, did you uns know Mrs. Richardson's heifer's got a calf? I reckon she won't borrow so much milk after hers gets good."

Trabue smiled broadly as the gaunt man withdrew, but his amusement was short lived, for Mrs. Bishop began to cry, and she soon rose in despair and left the room. Alan stood for a moment looking at the unmoved face of his father, who had found something in the last clause of the document which needed explanation; then he, too, went out.

CHAPTER II.

ALAN found his uncle on the back porch washing his face and hands in a basin on the water shelf. The young man leaned against one of the wooden posts which supported the low roof of the porch and waited for him to conclude the putting, spluttering operation, which he finally did by enveloping his head in a long towel hanging from a wooden roller on the weatherboarding.

"Well," he laughed, "yore uncle Ab didn't better matters in that overy much, but what could a feller do? Yore pa's as bullheaded as a young steer, an' he's already played smash anyway. Yore ma's wastin' breath; but a woman seems to have plenty of it to spare. A woman's tongue's like a windmill—it takes breath to keep it a goin', an' a dead clam 'ud kill her business."

"It's no laughin' matter, Uncle Ab," said Alan despondently. "Something must have gone wrong with father's judgment. He never has acted this way before."

"The old man dropped the towel and thrust his long, almost jointless fingers into his vest pocket for a horn comb which folded up like a jackknife. "I was jest a wonderin'," as he began to rake his shaggy hair straight down to his eyes—"I was jest a wonderin' if he could 'a' bent his skull in a little that time as mule 'thowed 'im agin the sweet gum. They say that often changes a body powerful. Folks do

"It's no laughin' matter, Uncle Ab," think he's off his centz on the land question, an' now that he's traded his best nest egg for another swipe o' the earth's surface I reckon they'll talk harder. But yore pa ain't no fool. No plumb idiot could 'a' managed yore ma as well as he has. You see, I know what he's accomplished, fer I've been with 'im ever since they was yoked together. When they was married, she was as wild as a buck an' certainly made our daddy walk a chalk line, but Alfred has tapered 'er down beautiful. She didn't want this thing done on 'it, an' yet it is settled by this time"—the old man looked through the hall to the front gate—"yes, Trabue's unblest 'it. He's got them stock certificates in his pocket, an' yore pa has the deeds in his note case. When this gets out, mossbacks from heer clean to Gilmer 'll be trappin' 'in to dispose o' land at so much a front foot."

"But what under high heaven will he do with it all?"

"Hold on to it," grinned Abner; "that is, ef he kin rake an' scrape enough together to pay the taxes. Why, last year his taxes mighty high doored 'im, an' the expenses on this county he's just annexed will push 'im like rips, fer now, you know, he'll have to do with the income on his factory stock. But he thinks he's got the right now by the year. Before long he may yell out to us to come help 'im turn 'er loose, but he's waitin' with 'er now."

At this juncture Mrs. Bishop came out of the dining room wiping her eyes on her apron.

"Mother," said Alan tenderly, "try not to worry over this any more than you can help."

"Yore pa's gettin' old an' childless," whimpered Mrs. Bishop. "He's heard somebody say timber land up in the mountains will some day advance, an' he forgets that he's too old to get the benefit of it. He's goin' to bankrupt us."

"Ef I do," the man accused thundered from the hall as he strode out, "it'll be my money that's lost—money that I made by hard work."

He stood before them, glaring over his eyeglasses at his wife. "I've had enough of yore tongue, my lady. Ef I'd not had so much to think about in that jest now, I'd 'a' shut you up sooner. Dry up now—not another word. I'm doin' the best I kin accordin' to my lights to provide for my children, an' I won't be interfered with."

No one spoke for a moment. However, Mrs. Bishop finally retorted, as her brother knew she would in her own time.

"I don't call buyin' thousands o' acres o' unsalable land providin' fer anything except the porehouse," she fumed.

"That's bec'ase you don't happen to know as much about the business as I do," said Bishop, with a satisfied chuckle, which to the observing Daniel sounded very much like exultation. "When you all know what I know, you'll be laughin' on 'other sides o' yore mouths. I reckon I'll jest have to let you all know about this or I won't have a speck o' peace from now on. I did 'a' left you at first bec'ase nobody kin keep a secret as well as the man it belongs to, an' I was afeared I'd leak out an' damage my interests, but this last 5,000 acres jest about swamps all the best timber in the whole Cohutta section, an' I might as well let up. I reckon you all know that ef I say o' my land was ugh a railroad it'd be low at five times what I paid for it, don't you? Well then, the long an' short of it is that I happen to be on the inside an' know that a railroad is goin' to be run from Blue Lick Junction to Darley. It'll be started inside of the next year an' 'll run smack dab through my property. That now? You know more'n you thought you did, don't you?"

The little group stared into his glowing face the while.

"A railroad is to be built, father?" exclaimed Alan.

"That's what I said." Mrs. Bishop's eyes flashed with sudden hope, and then, as if remembering her husband's limitations, her face fell. "Alfred," she asked skeptically, "how does it happen that you know about the railroad before other folks does?"

"How do I? That's it now—how do I? and the old man out of this freely. I've had my fun out o' laughin' Betsy to what every crank said about the Lick creek dam, an' now I was jest a sayin' how walthin' fer my time."

"Well, I'll be switched!" ejaculated Abner Daniel, half seriously, half sarcastically. "Teewhikkins! A railroad! I've always said one would pay like rips an' open up a dern good, God fersaken country. I'm gind you are a goin' to start one, Alfred."

Alan's face was filled with an expression of blended doubt and pity for his father's credulity. "Father," he said gently, "are you sure you got your information straight?"

"I got it from headquarters." The old man rubbed himself on his toes and knocked his heels together, a habit he had not indulged in for many a year. "It was told to me confidentially by a man who knows all about the whole thing, a man who is in the employ of the company that's goin' to build it."

"Huh!" The exclamation was Abner Daniel's. "Do you mean that Atlanta lawyer, Perkins?"

Bishop stared, his mouth lost some of its pleased firmness, and he ceased the motion of his

"What made you mention his name?" he asked curiously.

"Th, I dunno. Somehow I jest thought o' him. He looks to me like he might be buildin' a railroad ur two."

"Well, that's the man I mean," said Bishop, more meekly.

Somehow the others were all looking at Abner Daniel, who granted suddenly and almost angrily.

"I wouldn't trust that skunk no further 'n I could fling a bull by the tail."

"You say you wouldn't?" Bishop tried to smile, but the effort was a final failure.

"I wouldn't trust 'im nuther, Brother Ab," chimed in Mrs. Bishop. "As soon as I laid eyes on 'im I knowed he wouldn't do. He's too meaty mouthed an' fawnin'. Butter wouldn't melt in his mouth. He bragged on ever'thing we had while he was heer. Now, Alfred, what we must git at is, what was his object in tellin' you that tale?"

"Object?" thundered her husband, losing his temper in the face of the awful possibility that her words hinted at. "Are you all a pack an' passle o' fools? If you must dlive an' probe, then I'll tell you he owns a slice o' timber land above Holley creek, 'f'nh' some o' mine, an' so he let me into the secret out o' pure good will. Oh, you all can't skeer me. I ain't one o' the skeerin' kind."

But, notwithstanding this outburst, it was plain that doubt had actually taken root in the ordinarily cautious mind of the crude speculator.

Abner Daniel laughed out harshly all at once and then was silent. "What's the matter?" asked his sister in despair.

"I was jest a wonderin'," replied her brother.

"You are?" said Bishop angrily. "It seems to me you don't do much else."

"Tolks 'at wonders a lot ain't so apt to believe ever'thing they hear," retorted Abner. "I was jest a wonderin' why that little, spindly shanked Peter Mosely has been holdin' his head so high the last week or so. I'll bet I could make a dern good guess now."

"What under the sun's Peter Mosely got to do with my business?" burst from Bishop's impatient lips.

"He's got a sorter roundabout connection with it, I reckon," smiled Abner grimly. "I happen to know that Abe Tompkins sold 'im 2,000 acres o' timber land on Huckleberry ridge jest atter yore Atlanta man spent the day lookin' round in these parts."

Bishop was no fool, and he grasped Abner's meaning even before it was quite clear to the others.

"Looky heer," he said sharply, "what do you take me fer?"

"I ain't tuck you fer nothin'," said Abner, with a grin. "Leastwise, I ain't tuck you fer $5,000 wuth o' cotton mill stock. To make a long story short, the Atlanta jack leg lawyer is akin to the Tompkins family some way. I'd bet a new hat to a ginger cake that Perkins never owned a spoonful o' land up heer an' that he's jest 'eipin' the Tompkins folks on the sly to unload some o' the land, so they kin move west, whar they've always wanted to go. Peter Mosely is a man on the watch out fer rail soft snaps, an' when Perkins whispered the big secret in his year, like he did to you, he started out on a still hunt fer timbered land on the line of the proposed trunk line due west vy-nah Lick-skillet to Darley, with stop over privileges at Buzzard Roost an' fifteen minutes fer lunch at Dog Trot Springs. Now, somethin' or other, by hook or crook—mostly crook—Abe Tompkins wasn't dodgin' nobody about that time. Peter Mosely could 'a' run agin 'im with his eyes shut on a dark night."

"You mean to say?"

"I was at Nell Filmore's store when the two met, an' ef a trade was ever made quicker betwixt two folks it was done by telegraph an' the paper was signed by lightning. He said he had the land an' wouldn't part with it at any price ef he hadn't been bad in need o' money, fer he believed it was chuck full o' iron ore, soapstone, black marble an' water power, to say nothin' o' timber; but he'd been troumled so much about cash, he said, that he'd made up his mind to let 'er slide an' the devil take the contents. I never seed two parties to a deal better satisfied. They both left the store with a smug. Mosely's strut was the biggest, fer he wasn't afeerd o' nothin'. Tompkins looked like he was neered Mosely 'ud call 'im back an' want to rue."

"You mean to say?" But old Bishop seemed unable to put his growing fear into words.

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of consumption and throat and lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we call your attention to Boschee's German syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe coughs, bronchitis, croup—and especially for consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cents size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists. DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Mrs. John Bonds and children returned yesterday from a month's visit near Clarksville, Tenn. They were accompanied by Miss Mary Swift, who is their guest.

Correct Summer Clothing

The Kind That Won't Lose Shape

Did you ever notice how quick thin clothing loses its shape? It's because it is not made right. We overcome that fault in our Correct Summer Clothing—we've had it made a new way. The coats have a full shoulder, with hair-cloth stiffening down the front, that keeps them from breaking or losing shape. The pants have chuff bottoms, concealed buttons and felt straps, the cloth is thoroughly shrunk which overcomes bagging at the knee. There's no clothing like it for fit and style in Paducah. We show the new Irish Donegal Cloths, Cheviots and Home-spuns in coats and pants for men and young men.
